2 Children’s Transition Timeline Update:

On June 21, 2018, CMS communicated to the State that they are now requiring the State to take a different technical approach to the federal authorization framework for implementing the Children’s Transition to Medicaid Managed Care. CMS continues to support the move to managed care, and is committed to working with the State to identify mechanisms for the State to implement the elements of the design of the Children’s Transition. To meet CMS’ requirements for the new authorization framework, the State has proposed an alternative approach which now includes seeking concurrent consolidated 1915(c) waiver and 1115 waiver authorities. Based on the work required to draft new documents and receive CMS approvals, the State expects certain elements of the design, as outlined in the chart below, to be delayed by three months. The State is continuing to work with CMS to obtain their conceptual agreement on the proposed, revised approach, and the timeline for receiving CMS approvals and implementing the elements of the design. The State Plan Services, recently rebranded as Children and Family Treatment and Support Services, will be implemented as scheduled. The State will continue to keep stakeholders updated on the status of discussions with CMS and the impact on expected timelines.
